Capt. Bailey Implicates Former Blaimore Man

Toronto, March 13.—Captain Geo. T. Bailey, C.A.M.C., was this afternoon sentenced by Magistrate Denison here to three months' imprisonment on the jail farm, for making statements derogatory to the soldiers at the front. Captain Bailey was the man who told the recent prohibition convention here that he heard that ninety per cent of the troops in the trenches were drunk on Christmas day.

J. Murphy, counsel for the accused, said that he would appeal the case to the minister of justice. The crown produced several returned soldiers who were in the trenches Christmas day.

Major Brown quoted from his experiences as a medical man at Orpington Hospital, England, where there were four thousand men. There never had been anything like intemperance on the part of the soldiers. Drunkenness was a negligible quantity in the army. Had it not been so the military doctors would have heard of it. Frequent visits to London sustained him.

"I heard nothing of this alleged drunkenness until I landed at Halifax," declared the witness.

Captain Duncan of Port Credit, a chaplain in the army, spent last Christmas at Polkstone. It was not possible for much drunkenness to be prevalent. He had lived three quarters of a mile behind the front lines, but had never seen or heard of drunkenness.

Captain Bailey was called as a witness in his own defense. He said that he had been given the information by Captain Lyon of Calgary. He had no intention of making any statements derogatory to the boys at the front, but when he got on the platform at the convention, "it just slipped out." Captain Bailey said he had always been a strong temperance advocate and he was anxious to do all he could to advance the cause.

Magistrate Denison in pronouncing sentence said:

"This statement was against the interests of our nation. This act is to stop this loose talk. Statements of this sort have a bad effect on the community, making people unhappy and discontented. The man who told him may have been a German spy. The feature which makes me sorry is that I have to send the son and grandson of men who served under me to prison."

CAPT. LYON DENIES IT.

Calgary, Mar. 13.—"I had a general discussion with Captain Bailey about conditions among the soldiers while coming over on the boat," said Capt. H. E. Lyon, of Blaimore, Alta., to the Canadian Press correspondent when spoken to over the telephone this afternoon.

"Did you tell him that 90 per cent of the Canadians were drunk at Christmas?" Captain Lyon was asked.

"I did not," was the answer. "Any man would be a fool who would make a statement like that."

Captain Lyon added that he had been asked if he would testify at Toronto on Bailey's behalf and had consented to do so.

Calgary, March 14th.—Inquiry this morning a headquarters of fact that no instructions had been received from Ottawa or elsewhere in connection with Captain H. E. Lyon. None of the officers would discuss the probability of action of any sort following Capt. Bailey's allegation that he obtained his information from Capt. Lyon.

New Version of "My Rosary"

The hours I spent on thee, dear rock,
Are as a string of pearls to me,
I count them o'er by the weary clock,
My rosary, my rosary.
First two I knit, then two I purr,
And round the leg I slowly stir;
Now joyful paeans to the heavens I hurl,
I've turned the heel!
Oh, knotted ends that scratch and burn,
Oh, silken that dropped, uneven-hewn—
I kiss each blight and strive at last to learn
To reach thee, sweetheart, to reach thee,
To reach thee.

NO MAN'S LAND A STRANGE PLACE NOT SHOWN ON PUBLISHED MAPS

OF ENORMOUS AREA MEASURED IN SQUARE MILES

Not the Narrow Strip of Territory of Popular Fancy, and It is a Shifting Country Which Almost all the While is Moving Gradually Towards Germany

There is a country, not far distant from London, and familiar to many across whose spaces waves are gazing, regretfully or longingly, at this moment—a country seldom trodden, albeit, perhaps, through the strange ghosts—a country as real and solid as the street outside your window—yet a country which is marked upon no published maps.

It is an enormous country, in actual area, though long and narrow in shape. It is in Europe. It has a name—a tragic name, famed the whole world over. Open your atlas and turn to the page called "Europe," and you will search vainly for that name. For the name—it owns the saddest three syllables in history—is No Man's Land.

No Man's Land stretches from Switzerland to the sea. It runs over the dear, bygone days, enjoyed one of those tours to Lucerne, you traveled along (for that matter, strange ghosts—a country as real and solid as the street outside your window—yet a country which is marked upon no published maps.

Why it is known as No Man's Land is a story that is told in many a tale. It is a story of the dark pinions of the Angel of Death, silent, and not always kindly. What's the matter with that automobile? asked the policeman. "I dunno," replied Mr. Chuggins. "Every time it gets to a place it can't track it thinks it has a right to lay off and obstruct traffic." The same up to it was a part of the company's regular rolling stock. —Washington Star.

A Martyred Nurse

Italy Now Has Her Sister Edith Cavell

Italy has now her Sister Edith Cavell, a martyred nurse, who has given up her life for humanity. Her name was Sister Teresa Marie, and she was just 20 years old. Young as she was, she had studied medicine at home as well as in London and Edinburgh.

At the beginning of the war, she abandoned her studies to take up nursing, and after working under the Red Cross in Serbia, she took up duties in her own country when Italy entered the war.

Apparently she was placed on the enemy's blacklist, because she (her country then being neutral) had dared to offer her professional skill to the Serbs. When she came under the notice of the Austrian authorities she was arrested, and her arrest was reported to Berlin.

She was kept in a filthy, internment camp for eight days, and at an inquiry before a military officer was taxed with being a spy of the allies. She protested her innocence, and on the case being taken up by the Italian government she was released, treated with every conceivable indignity.

When the Germans overran a part of Italy the Red Cross unit to which Sister Teresa was attached was subjected to severe restrictions, and she was called before the German-Austrian commander to explain the situation.

She pleaded hard for his life, but no notice was taken and she was threatened with execution. She was released, but she was not allowed to return to her home.

Militarism Does Not Pay

People of the Central Powers Beginning to Realize the Futility of War

The governments of the central powers are employing all their arts to satisfy the peoples whom they are ruling. They are employing "militarism" and bureaucracy has triumphed. The peoples must be taught that the system does not pay.

Peace cannot be made until we have indisputable evidence of their conviction. That the gist of Mr. Asquith's policy, as it is the gist of President Wilson's. While there is a good deal of evidence to show that the peoples may be not altogether unwilling to learn the lesson, it remains highly distasteful to the central powers, and to the military and bureaucratic castes. The more intelligent members of these classes know that their hearts are not in it, but they strive to defer that day when they do to themselves and to their country. HORRIBLE ATROCITIES OF GERMAN PRISONERS OF WAR

WOUNDED BRITISH OFFICERS ARE TORTURED

Sir Conan Doyle Tells of the Inhuman Manner in Which British Prisoners are Treated in Germany, and Contrasts This With the Good Treatment of German Prisoners in Britain

Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, the author, writing to the London Times from his house in Sussex, says: "I had occasion recently to talk with a British officer who had endured captivity in Germany. With a voice which was husky with passion, trembling with the violence of his own feelings, he told me what he and his comrades had gone through. I had read such things in cold print, but to hear them from one who had lived through them was an indelible effect. I was trembling as he was before he had finished."

"This officer, of senior regimental rank, a man of dignity and refinement, was taken wounded at the end of 1914. With his comrades in captivity he was kept in a camp for two days' journey from the front to his prison. At one point, he was taken to a hospital, and there he was kept for some time. He was then taken to a camp, and there he was kept for some time. He was then taken to a camp, and there he was kept for some time.

COPENHAGEN CHEWING TOBACCO

One of the reasons why Copenhagen Chewing Tobacco is becoming more and more popular is because it does not contain any of the harmful substances found in other tobaccos. It is not chewed; on the contrary, a small pinch is placed in the mouth between the lower lip and gum. This gives complete satisfaction without chewing, and leaves a pleasant, cool aftertaste.

Copenhagen Chewing Tobacco is scientifically prepared, of the best leaf, ripe, high flavored leaf tobacco.

It is the form of small grains, and because of this, only a few grains should be placed in the mouth.

It's the most economical chew.

The FOOD CONTROLLER SAYS:-

Maple sugar and maple syrup production came at the first attack in the great production campaign for 1918. The call for food of all kinds came to Canada and all Canada, east and west, to save the situation must produce this year as never before.

The first crop of the year, in Eastern Canada at least, and in parts of Manitoba and British Columbia as well, is secured by tapping the sugar maples. The season is due to open in Essex County, Ontario, the most southerly point in Canada, about March 20, and gradually the spring will creep north and east, spreading across the older part of Ontario into the eastern townships of Quebec and on to New Brunswick and Nova Scotia. The sap running season will last in each section until the leaves bud—about three or four weeks. The greatest use the farmer can make of this sap running period, if he has a sugar bush on his farm, is to turn in with all the help he can command, or persuade, and make a couple of hundred dollars' worth of sugar. It will cost him some firewood, it is true, and in some districts of Canada cordwood is getting mighty scarce, but the farmer has to consider that this is an exceptional year. We have had a great world shortage of cane and beet sugar; Canada has not suffered as some countries, but the demand for sugar is greater than ever known. It is in on a sugar basis of two pounds per month, France one and one-tenth pounds per month, and Italy one pound per month.

The Canadian market has hitherto readily absorbed 75 per cent of the Canadian sugar maple production. The United States takes all we can send, and would gladly take more. Western Canada is a growing market, where the pure maple sugar and maple syrup of the East is highly esteemed. In the big cities of Canada it has been "hard to get," pure maple sugar and syrup, and the demand for the pure product has for years exceeded the supply. The United States offers an unlimited market. And, further, the American people have been asked to conserve cane and beet sugar and reduce the consumption of sugar.

The practical requirements of canisters in the world are forced to find substitutes. Maple sugar is a wholesome substitute and popular wherever introduced.

The people of Britain and France have lately been made acquainted with the Canadian sugar. The Canadian soldiers have introduced it. Thousands of pounds have been sent to the front by the Red Cross, and the knowledge of maple flavor has spread by now into the various countries of Europe where Canadian troops have been stationed. This has created the foundation for a permanent export trade, and Canadian maple producers have now a market opportunity practically without a limit.

Maple sugar and syrup have been protected from adulteration by the Pure Maple Sugar amendment to the Adulteration Act, passed in 1915, and the word "maple" may not be used in branding or offering for sale any but the pure products. Declared in the Ottawa Valley and the Eastern Townships of Quebec are offering prices netting 16 cents a pound to the farmers for sugar and $1.75 per gallon for syrup. These prices are easily double those received five or six years ago. Every available maple tree should be tapped this spring and every sap bucket, pail and pan pressed into service, whether it is the most up-to-date equipment or the old-time sugar making outfit that has not been used for years. Every little helps. Every pound of maple sugar is wanted.

Frank Happenings

C. J. Tompkins, of Frank, has accepted The Pass agency for the Sun Life Assurance Company.

A number of former patients of the military hospital, who had been taking home treatment in different parts of the west for the past three or four months, returned this week to re-enter the local institution.

Private Pollard, who had been a patient of the military hospital here for some time, and whose condition had grown rather hopeless during the last few weeks, was allowed to go to his home in Fernie on Thursday morning, where he passed away a few hours after arrival. Funeral takes place on Sunday afternoon at Fernie, and a number of officers and men from the local hospital hope to be in attendance.

The ladies of the Frank Red Cross Branch acknowledge receipt of the sum of $10. being netted from the hockey game put on by the Frank town and C.P.R. teams. Our lady informant sat with us a whole hour, telling us of the remarkable playing of certain members of the teams, who were formerly looked upon as "mere men," but who have now shown themselves to be veritable Talor Cooks. She noticed one fellow actually catch a fly (of course it was a mild night). The game was managed by Mr. Sherring, who was also the "star" among the town players. The score ran very much lopsided, the C.P.R. having to put up with a score of one to something like twelve times that amount for the opposition. A good turnout of "spectators" was evidenced from the collection taken, and every man, woman or child that dropped a nickel in that new Easter hat stated that they had received their full money's worth.

The carnival pulled off on the rink tonight was a banner affair, despite several days of mild weather which threatened to soften the ice. The different characters represented were too numerous to mention in one copy of The Enterprise, so we have left that part of the report over to be given by instalments in our issues between now and mid-March. One of the most interesting competitions of the night's programme was a race between about twenty couples. The winning team happened to be Mrs. Moe and Alex McVay; but a couple, who had been standing near the goal for about five minutes squabbling over a little incident which had a few minutes before aroused the young lady's ire, put in a claim for the prize on the ground that they had been there first. Mrs. Moe and Mr. McVay carried off a prize, nevertheless. Other prize winners carried names too long for our type, except Dick Harrison, and he deserved a prize, anyway, whether he had been there or not. A young lady said that Dick represented a "Mutt." A number of beautiful articles had been subscribed as prizes by some of the leading citizens of the town, chief among which was a handsome set of dishes from Mr. Vencel Ruzicka for the best-dressed lady. As there were no ladies there "well-dressed," it was decided to hold this prize over and offer it sometime after the new spring fashions begin to dazzle the eyes of "mere man" on the street. The net proceeds of the carnival amounted to over twenty dollars.

New Version of "My Rosary"

The hours I spent on thee, dear sock,
Are as a string of pearls to me,
I count them o'er by the weary clock,
My homely, my homely.

First two I knit, then two I purr,
And round the leg I slowly curl;
Now joyful poems to the heavens I hurl,
I've turned the heel!

Oh, knitted threads that scratch and burn,
Oh, stitches that dropped, uneven rows—
Kiss each thread and strive at last to learn
To reach the toe, sweetheart, to reach the toe.

The Bestial Turk

One of the Greatest Obstacles to the Restoration of World Peace

German papers deplore the loss of the Goeben and the Breslau, the former German cruisers put out of action in the recent fighting at the Dardanelles. The loss weakens Turkey, destroys the last vestige of naval strength. What Germany deprecates cannot be civilized men everywhere else glad. The bestial Turk is one of the greatest obstacles to the restoration of world peace. Germany for her own ends not only desires that he shall retain Constantinople and the regions of European and Asiatic Turkey adjacent to that city, inhabited chiefly by Ottomans, but that the Turkish empire as constituted before the war shall remain intact. Even were the problems of Belgium, Poland, and Alsace-Lorraine settled to the satisfaction of the Allies, peace would be impossible so long as Germany continued to demand the restoration of Palestine, Mesopotamia, and Armenia. It may be that an intact Turkey, with Germany as her ally, would be less cruel and anti-Christian than in the past, but the experiences of the Armenian disaster cannot be years, while German influence has been supreme at Constantinople, give little hope of reform.

The representatives of the Kaiser did not even make an audible protest when Enver and Talaat Bey set their corps of murderers to work in 1915 upon the hideous task of exterminating the Armenians. There were audible protests from certain sections of the German people, but these were stifled by official Germany—its staff stained with the blood of the villagers of Belgium—stood by unmoved while hundreds of thousands of Armenians were massacred in cold blood. The martyrdom of Armenia continued for many months and Germany permitted the slaughter of the most industrious and commercially capable people in Asia to continue unchecked because the wiping out of the Armenians would at the close of the war give Germany a free hand in the markets of Asiatic Turkey. That explanation, with its dreadful implication, could be set aside lightly. Germany could have put a stop to the Armenian atrocities by a word of stern prohibition. That word was not spoken. And because it was not spoken the Kaiser will stand forever linked in infamy with the leaders of the Young Turks—murderers all.

That these wholesale assassins shall have Palestine, and Armenia, and Arabia, and Mesopotamia returned to them by treaty. Henry Cabot Lodge, in the United States senate a little over a month ago, put the case of civilization against the Turk in these words:

"The Ottoman Turks have been in Europe since the fifteenth century. In the days of their success they were a scourge to Europe, and Christendom. They have been the pest and the curse of Europe, the source of innumerable wars, the executioners in countless massacres. The Turks are brave soldiers and good fighting men, but their nature must stop. There is not one word to be said in defence of the Turks as governors or rulers. When they came into the region that is now called the Balkans they found there large and prosperous cities, built up during the early Middle Ages on the ruins of the Roman civilization. They found a fertile and cultivated country. The cities which they captured sank into deserted villages. Wherever they have trodden trade, industry, commerce, the arts, and civilization have withered away. They have preyed upon the jealousies and controversies of the other nations of Europe, and in this way have sustained their empire at Constantinople. They have been the cause of many wars. The massacres of which they have been guilty which stretch back to the day of their arrival, and which have never been worse than during the entire nineteenth century, almost surpass belief and imagination. In justice however, it must be said that never have the massacres been so frightful as they have been since the Turks passed under German domination. At least half of the Armenian people have been slaughtered in cold blood, and the remnant is only preserved, now because a large part of Armenia has fallen under Russian control and the other Armenians have taken refuge there. Such a nation as this—such a government, I should say, at this—is a curse to modern civilization. Like a pestilence, it breathes forth contagion upon the moment."

The bestial Turk, driven from the lands he has ravaged for centuries by the valor of British and Russian soldiers who have died on many a blood-soaked battlefield, in Asiatic Asia since the war began, cannot be permitted to return under the protection of German bayonets. His fiendish work is done—the cup of his iniquities is full to overflowing—Toronto Globe.

To Utilize Game Supply

Restrictions Might Be Relaxed on Account of Food Shortage

The venison supply committee, appointed by the British military of food, succeeded in increasing by more than 30 per cent. above the average of previous years the number of deer killed during the season of 1916-17. Lord Rhonda recently submitted a memorial to the committee at which he expressed his approval of the work already accomplished and his desire that the committee should continue its efforts in the interests of the national food supply. He pointed out the importance of providing as much venison as possible as a substitute for beef and mutton among all classes of consumers.

In many parts of Canada there are large numbers of deer, caribou and other animals suitable for food, which are protected at the present time by provincial legislation. In view of the critical condition in regard to food supply, and the necessity of sending out this country every ounce of exportable meat, the question may well be raised whether some relaxation of the game laws should be made, in order that all available supplies of venison might be put to the needs of the allies by releasing additional quantities of Canadian venison bacon from domestic consumption.

Under date of August 14, 1917, the food controller wrote to several provincial governments suggesting special regulations during the hunting season which would allow of a larger quantity of game being taken and sold for food than has been obtaining in the past. More recently a letter was received from the British Columbia in which the writer said:

"We have certain game laws in this province which are excellent under normal conditions and which allow of the hunting of a certain number of deer but forbid the sale of game. My suggestion is that this law be amended so that a certain number of deer may be taken and sold for food. This would allow of a larger quantity of game being taken and sold for food than has been obtaining in the past. Distribution

Charge too High

What It Costs to Get Peach Jam From the Local Station to the Wage-Earner's Table

This paper has already printed two articles giving exact figures to show the comparative cost of manufacturing certain foodstuffs, what it costs to bring them long distances to this city, and what it costs to distribute them in the city.

It is clear that the third item on braces apparently far too large a proportion of the final selling price of the goods. In this period of war it is especially desirable to consider whether this local charge can be reduced. The food controller at Ottawa has already taken the issue under advisement with reference to milk.

The report of the milk committee of the food controller's department, at Ottawa, was issued on Nov. 24, 1917. The document shows evidence of a careful and minute survey, deals with the increased cost of production and particularly with the excessive price in prices between the producer and consumer. This difference, which is referred to (page 6) as the "distributor's spread," and according to figures submitted, varied in different localities from 2.75 to 6.50 cents per quart.

The distributor's spread is attributed to an unnecessary overlapping in delivery and the report comments upon the attendant diversion of a great number of men and horses from productive employment. The Free Press, in this and preceding articles demonstrates that this excessive distributor's spread at the point of consumption is not confined to milk, but is equally burdensome to the consumer as far as other necessary commodities are concerned.

The milk committee, after reciting in detail the particulars of this extravagant "distributor's spread," makes its recommendations, which it is only fair to assume, will be adopted, in whole or in part, and the effect will be to reduce the price of milk to the consumer, by reorganizing the present wasteful methods of distribution.

The Free Press' object in publishing these figures, is to draw the attention of the food controller and the public to the facts, in the hope that some release from this unnecessary and burdensome distributor's spread may be lifted from the shoulders of the consumer.

For years the excuse, in the west for high prices, has been the railway freight and this excuse, like the dinner plate rests with the distributor's spread.

The Cause of Heart Trouble

Fealty digestion causes the generation of gases in the stomach which inflame and press down on the heart and interfere with its regular action, causing faintness and pain. 18 to 30 drops of Mother Sidel's Cornsyrup after meals aids digestion, relieves which allows the heart to beat full and regular.

Gift of an Airplane

Huddersfield, in Yorkshire, Makes Presentation to Canada

Huddersfield, in Yorkshire, noted for spinning, has presented an air-ship to the Canadian forces. A similar gift has been made recently to Leicester, Canada, of course, and is not yet in individual air service, but the gift in the name of the Dominion is certainly a most gratifying compliment. It is also proposed to give a medalion of Canada's most famous airman, as already done in the case of the other Dominions. Who holds this proud position will be presumably a task for Canadian headquarters to decide.

Too Nervous To Sleep

Nerves Wrecked by Accident—Was Afraid to Go in a Crowd, or to Stay Alone—Tells of His Cure

Much sympathy was felt in this city when it was known that a distressing accident, which left the sufferer in a nervous condition in a pitiable condition for a long time. He was like a child in that he required his mother's care nearly all the time. He feared a crowd, could not stay alone and could not sleep. Cause of the weakness and excited condition of his nerves.

Detroit doctors did what they could for him, but he could not get back his strength and vigor until he fortunately heard of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

It is no mere accident that Dr. Chase's Nerve Food proves to be exactly what is needed in such cases of exhausted nerves. It is composed of the ingredients which nature requires to plant new blood and create new nerve force. For this reason it cannot fail and for this reason it succeeds where ordinary medicines fail.

Mr. Laurence E. Dorsey, 39 Stanley street, London, Ontario, writes: "About three years ago I got my spine smashed in an elevator in Detroit, which completely wrecked my nerves. I doctored with the doctors, but they did not seem to be able to help me. My nerves were in such state that I could not go down town alone or go anywhere where there was a crowd. Sometimes I could not get any sleep at all. But one medicine was recommended when Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and before I had completely used the first box I was able to get on in my condition. I continued using these pills for some time. The result was splendid. I feel much better, can sleep well at night, can go out on the street and attend to my business. I am now as good as pleased to be able to tell what Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has done for me. I would like to recommend it to other people."

Early Preparation Urged

So That Farmers May Produce Maximum Crops This Year

The department of agriculture, Ottawa, has issued a leaflet advising for early preparation for the forthcoming increased production campaign. It is pointed out that in order to produce food supplies that are essential now, for field crops are not only required to meet immediate human needs, but increased production of hogs, dairy products and beef are dependent upon such crops.

Foremost and early preparation are advocated. It is estimated that insect pests destroy annually from 10 to 25 per cent of all crops grown and farmers are reminded that they had better secure their insecticides before spring if possible. The sudden demand for large quantities during the season when the insects are most active causes a serious shortage and sends the prices soaring. All spraying machinery should be thoroughly overhauled, cleaned and oiled and ready for use at all times. It is pointed out that this timely preparation will mean not only the saving of time but, eventually, the saving of crops.

Superfuous Words

In a great hurry he took the following telegram to the office: "Mrs. Brown, Liverpool street, I announce with grief the death of your husband. Come quickly to my will. I believe we are heirs.—John Black. The clerk, having consulted the ordinary book, "There are two many words, sir." "All right; cut out with grief," was the reply.

A Costly Cure

Four thousand two hundred men are employed by Canadian municipalities in waiting for the day when they are attempting to extinguish them. The cost of this service exceeds $4,000,000 a year. More than half of this money would be better employed if devoted to removing fire-breeding conditions and enforcing proper regulations to prevent the occurrence of fires.—Municipal World.

War and Food

No. 8. POTATOES

At the present time there is a total surplus in Canada of 6,000,000 bushels of potatoes over normal consumption. The United States has a surplus of from 40,000,000 to 100,000,000 bushels.

This may be regarded as a fortunate circumstance for potatoes are among the finest of substitutes and in doing things freely meat is being released for overseas. In the United States Mr. Hooper has been advocating the use of potatoes for some time past and his suggestion may be applied equally to Canada.

Every province in the country except Quebec has sufficient potatoes to ensure supplies during the winter but if they are deliberately kept back in the summer it will follow that there will be a glut on the market in the spring and consequent waste of a considerable part of the surplus. Farmers who have a good supply of potatoes on hand would do well to market them now.

The food controller has seen to it that the prices will not be allowed to rise beyond these normal figures. By a steady and abundant supply of potatoes being placed on the market at the present time, it will be the 1918 crop is available, and the waste of any large part of the crop will be prevented.

It is necessary as a war measure for everybody to eat potatoes and to purchase them in regular quantities so that distribution will be equal everywhere for the next five or six months, relieving railroad congestion and enabling growers and distributors to handle potatoes at the most reasonable prices and to furnish encouragement for production of a larger crop next season.

Germany plants more than twice as many potatoes as the United States and they are helping her to hold out against the Allies. "Potatoes are the best substitutes for the food staples we are being asked to save for the allies. They furnish nourishment, bulk and mineral salts."

They can be put to good use by the housekeeper for there are many ways in which she can prepare them. A meagre supply of meat may be stretched by the addition of the potatoes while in themselves they furnish adequate nutriment no matter how they are prepared.

The Trade Weapon

Bringing Germany to Time by the Boycott Method

If our proposals for a reformed Germany are to have any force they must be backed up by a trade boycott. The best argument is guns, but there is still an argument which will not fail the meat eaters. It is the trade boycott. The national chamber of commerce is to be commended for promising it.

The German mind. When we recall that the foreign trade of the central powers is the area which the world aggregated something like $8,000,000,000 annually before the war, and that the real trade of Germany has dwindled to $3,000,000,000, it is not difficult to imagine that the trade of Germany is a very small part of the world's trade.

A Monster Egg

This One Contained Fully Two Quarts of Liquid

Two years ago a Chinese peasant found sticking in the bank of Yellow River, in the province of Honan, China, a monster egg. This was declared by the natives to be one of the ho-ho bird or phoenix, a legendary fowl which is often portrayed in the ornamental designs of the Chinese. It was, however, that it was laid by a gigantic ostrich.

The largest ostrich egg on record is believed to have been found in the American Museum of Natural History in New York, and it was found to have an actual capacity of more than two quarts liquid. This is equivalent to some forty eggs of the ordinary bird.

The City of Despair

Food Is Greatest Problem of Berlin Says Returned Solist

Berlin is a brooding, grim city of despair today, according to Miss Josephine Marzany, a young German solist, returned from the German capital where she had been studying for 15 months. She left Berlin, November 25. Miss Marzany said declared in an interview that Germans still believe in their hearts that they are still a free people.

"The general feeling in Berlin," she said, "is that the allies are exhausted and that a decisive blow can be struck before the United States can become a factor on the western front."

"I left Berlin just as reports from Italy indicated the success of the new offensive and that Italy was out of the war as a result and as reports from Russia pointed to a peace that would insure food for the starving people of Germany."

"The Germans were very confident of Russian peace, which was regarded as the solution of the food problem which is the biggest problem now bothering Germany."

The Question of Food

Pork Can Be Produced With Profit—Hog Feed Available

Prof. H. Barton of Macdonald Agricultural College, St. Anne de Bellevue, writes his own account of hog production as follows:

"I reached my destination a friend strongly urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and as I was anxious to regain the first medicine I tried. The pills were the first I tried and I felt they were doing me good. I felt I was able to go out and help in the household, and from that time on my progress was rapid. Although I was not better than I had ever before. There are many people who can testify to the truth of these statements, and I feel I would not be doing justice to your wonderful medicine if I did not make these facts known."

Sovereigns in Bolivia

Bolivia has a strange connection with Great Britain in the fact that the English standard is the gold coin, remarks the London Chronicle. This is minted from local gold, and is the capital of the country. The gold coin, which is also a legal tender, although Bolivia is not yet a "new" country and has not had time to adopt a coinage of her own, she has found an opportunity of establishing state monopolies on alcohol, spirituous liquors and tobacco, rendering the prohibition of them at any time an easy matter.

Gigantic Locomotive

The Biggest Locomotive Has Two 14-ton Driving Wheels

The greatest steam locomotive in the world has been put into service by the Baldwin Locomotive Works. It is so gigantic that its builders had to be made flexible at three different joints so that the locomotive could be assembled in a curve. It is more than 100 feet long and weighs some 450 tons. Twenty-four driving wheels, each standing on its own axle, are arranged in four pairs, the wheels of each set being coupled together and driven by two giant steam cylinders. Under full steam the locomotive can exert a 83-ton pull on cars behind it, which means that it can easily haul a freight train two miles long and 23,000 tons in weight over an ordinary good roadbed at an average of fourteen miles an hour, and possibly more. Bad roads will retard it only slightly.—From the Popular Science Monthly.

THE STARTING POINT OF CONSUMPTION

Lies in Weak, Watery Blood.—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Make the Blood Rich, Red and Pure

Weak, watery blood is the starting point of consumption. When your blood is weak, your health declines. Your face becomes pale or sallow, your appetite fails, your heart jumps and flutters at the least exertion or excitement. You are always weak and wretched and you lose interest in both work and amusement. This is the point from which you may easily step to consumption, which leads to death.

What is needed to bring back health and energy is the new, rich red blood. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will actually make it. In all the world of medicine there is no other tonic and blood purifier so effective as this. It will build up, run-down or easily tired blood, and it will give you the strength and energy to do your work.

It is a fair statement to say that the experience of Mrs. T. Brennan, Charlott, Ont., who says: "Not only myself, but my friends think that I had not been for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills would have filled a consumptive grave. My condition was most serious; my blood seemed literally to have turned watery. I was so weak and became utterly unable to do any household work or go about. I doctored steadily for a long time, but was growing weaker, and finally the doctor held out but little hope for my recovery."

The sale of middings at a higher price than that prescribed for shorts is therefore illegal.

The Coleman Dramatic Society will give the play entitled "Billy's Bungalow" in the opera house, March 21st. This performance has already drawn crowded houses in Bellevue and Coleman, and public opinion has unanimously pronounced it an unqualified success. Apart from the prospect of a delightful evening another inducement to patronize this entertainment is offered to the Blairmore public in the fact that the entire proceeds, owing to the generosity of Mrs. Graham and her company, will be donated to the School Library which is sadly in need of funds. The performance will be followed by a dance and the music will be rendered by Coleman orchestra. Remember the date.

Jim Thistlethwaite, of Elko, says that according to the papers that city of the plains known throughout the world as Calgary seems to have an overdose of imbecile Sunday observance killjoys. Do these people know that Christ stayed every funeral that came his way and sent the mourners home singing. Funeral sermons were too sad for him to preach. Every sick room he entered became a health resort. He made graveyards unpopular. We wonder what he would think of these killjoys whose lives would remind you of a seven-year famine. Do they know that the Kingdom of God is here? You've heard of the minister who was so chilly that when he said grace it froze his coffee. May God have mercy on Calgary.
